

Theological Geography

Ochil Hills is in the distance and a statue of Robert the Bruce is in the right foreground. The view is from Sterling Castle

Ochil Hills saw the Battle of Sheriffmuir, which pitched Scots Nationalists against Scots Great Britain-ists. The former won the battle. The latter won the war. That one, at least.

The Rev. David R. Graham
October 28, 2012

Can Something Subvert Itself?

No. But ...

Can Christianity be used to subvert the Church? No. But a counterfeit of Christianity can be used to subvert the churches.

Can freedom of speech be used to subvert freedom? No. But a counterfeit of free speech can be used to subvert the habits, associations, civil institutions and laws meant to defend and protect that freedom.

Can human values be used to subvert humanity? No. But a counterfeit of human values can be used to subvert the will to love humanity.

Can freedom of religion be used to subvert religion? No. But a counterfeit of religion can be used to subvert the appreciation of freedom and religion.

Everything President Gaslighter sells is a counterfeit of what he says it is, to include his self and his family.

Comments

Self-Subversion? No. But ...

Page 3