Work Or Be Eaten

If you are too lazy to manage your life, your neighbor will eat you.

If you want to be taken care of, your care taker will eat you.

If you dream the world belongs to you, the world will eat you.

Work or be eaten. You too, trust-funders.

The social contract prevents cannibalism. It does not promote conviviality. That you must earn.

The Rev. David R. Graham Adwaitha Hermitage 09DEC12

AMDG

