

Law of Expansion: How to Get a Handle on This Situation

Americans are not weary of war. We are weary of not winning wars. Americans are weary of fundamental national security policy - Kennan's containment theory/Truman's Truman Doctrine - that fundamentally subverts national security. The Rev. David R. Graham

The sitrep is war not crime. The response is military not law enforcement.

1- Seize every imam or mullah on USA soil on suspicion of working to overthrow the Constitution of the USA. Try them in military tribunals for espionage, sedition or treason. Seek for them the death penalty as foreign agents in a time of war. When their minions rampage, respond with military not police force; Soldiers and Marines, not SWAT and riot gear. Imams and mullahs want to believe that Islam is not only a religion but also a complete political system they administer. Fine. Then the Koran is evidence subject to discovery and Islamic thought and jurisprudence are political thought and war plans proving imams and mullahs a clear and present danger to the Constitution of the USA. Additionally, subject imams and mullahs to investigation, discovery and prosecution under RICO, both criminal and civil. Connect the nodes and personalities and collapse the whole web. Shouldn't be too difficult given their decades of gaily public operations.

2- Hit Iran with a firestorm. Smash her harbors, her military installations, her electrical grid and her oil processing facilities. Then dismantle her weapons programs. Then, obliterate Qom and surrounds and drone or otherwise hunt to death every ayatollah and other member of the Iranian clerical bench. No trials, summary execution by whatever means available or resolved. Keep ground combat operations as an active contingency with pre-selected targets and missions under constant reassessment.

3- Cease military, financial, diplomatic and technical aid to al-Saud. Order that family to leave power or be thrown out. Confiscate all al-Saud assets and foundations on USA soil, to benefit the US Treasury. Deport spouses and children of al-Saud under USA prosecution. Mark them No Return. Seize local and national leadership of the Muslim Student Association, ISNA and CAIR. Confiscate their properties, to benefit the US Treasury. Prosecute them in military tribunals for espionage, sedition or treason, and RICO them per above for imams or mullahs. Deport their spouses and children. Mark them No Return. In all cases of prosecution seek the death penalty. Through the US Treasury, stop al-Saud funding Taliban, al Qaeda and like groups in the Middle East, Africa and Central Asia. Restore Hashemite governance of the Arabian Peninsula and let them deal with the Wahhabi clerical establishment as they deem meet.¹

4- Invite Russia and India jointly with USA to develop communication, agricultural, industrial, mineral and tourism resources of Afghanistan. And jointly to govern Afghanistan as one administrative entity or as three cooperating administrative entities, one each under Russian, Indian and American stewardship. Afghanistan is not a nation and so requires no nation building. None is possible. It is a chaotic, death-dealing area of the planet that compels imposition of the rule of law and destruction of sociopathic customs and connections. Russia, India and USA can decide what law that should be and how it should be imposed and what to destroy and how.²

1 al-Saud usurped the Hashemite patrimony with assistance from Woodrow Wilson, Charles R. Crane, the British Foreign Office and Harry St. John Philby (father of double agent Kim Philby). The BFO and Philby supported British interests focused in India that needed coaling stations on the east and south coasts of the Arabian Peninsula. Crane exploited Wilson's dotage for American interests, to include hydrocarbon and social engineering.

2 Soviet arms succeeded in Afghanistan, as do American and other ISAF arms when allowed to move to combat. Soviet failure in Afghanistan was caused by unsanitary Soviet military camps and personal habits.

5- Concurrently with the foregoing, step aside to let Israel deal with Hizbollah and Hamas by whatever means she deems certain of success and push at her diplomatic, military and financial assistance to that end.

This should get the mule's attention, so to speak. Ask him, then, if he would like to cooperate or needs more convincing that he has to. Tell Muslims they are welcome to practice their religion so long as they disabuse themselves of the notion that they are also a complete and only valid political system and that, to get there, to make that leap forward and upward in maturity, they are obliged to re-examine their Koran and remove therefrom or disregard therein³ any and all implications of sole religious validity and necessary religious and political hegemony. Failing that, they will have demonstrated to them, again, that growl they may but march they must, until they get the point and, per their religious duty, submit. "Islamophobia"? Not phobia, freedom.

Whose side is the White House on? "... I will stand with them [Muslims] should the political winds shift in an ugly direction." The Audacity of Hope, p 261. The reported President of the United States sides with the ugly political winds blown up by enemies of the United States. The Law of Expansion lights the ways and cultivates the long-term intellectual structures to bind up the wounds and reconnect the sinews and arteries of the United States ... and deliver the White House to friends of America.

John Locke pointed out that toleration should not be extended to the intolerant. Intolerance is hegemonistic and, by definition, totalitarian.

³ The Koran is a redacted compilation and as such can be re-redacted and re-compiled quite legitimately. Howls of protest against that truth can be met with a simple, truthful response: "Goatshit." The Koran cries out for purification and liberation from the wretched Moslem clerical apparel.
