Impeach The Imbecilic Imbicile

January 25, 2010 - Rule 5 Monday

The Rev. David R. Graham

Time for impeachment on grounds of mental incompetence to discharge the duties of the Office. Not beyond possibility the Dems will do this, or try, before NOV10. No doubt already pondering it. Time to bring it to the surface as chatter-point. Persistent childhood thinker slipped into White House on deceit, systemically can't handle adult responsibilities, can't relate with reality otherwise than as dreamed of -- cloud castles -- compulsive grasping of insane ideology -- feeble-minded -- Anti-American -- Domestic/Foreign Enemy of the Constitution -- Anti-Robert's Rules of Order.

Impeach The Imbecilic Imbicile

Variations On A Theme

Scary Times At Obama High

There's more than a little possibility that he will be impeached for mental incompetence, unfit for the duties of the Office. He is in fact mentally feeble, an inevitable result of un-scrutinized ideology. He never grew beyond childish thinking. His fundamental insanity -- childish thinking driving an insane ideology in an adult body -- is now on display and comments on blogs show it is being noticed. The Dems may impeach him before NOV10. Long shot, but not impossible. Actually, reasonable from their point of view. When Geitner goes, huge guns will turn on the White House. Not for any noble reasons, but heavy fire nonetheless.

Why Is Obama Such A Failure On The Stump

"He is, at his core, the anti-John Adams."

This gives him too much credit.

He is at his core mentally incompetent to hold the Office of President of the United States, being feeble-minded, an idiot savant, clinically insane.

Impeach The Imbecilic Imbicile

Yes, impeach on the basis of mental incompetence/diminished capacity to discharge the duties of the Office.

He is actually mentally unstable, feeble, never grew up from child-like thinking. Some regress to childhood. This one never transcended it.

And that makes him, as an adult in body and years, feeble and unable to discharge the responsibilities of high national command. He can be impeached on those grounds — as can the two in line behind him — and it is not inconceivable that he will be.

No racism to it, just cold clinical analysis based on evidence he provides in word and deed daily. He hates America and aims to punish her to poverty.

Fundamental insanity underlies both forms of fascism, religious fascism (based on ideology) and natural fascism (based on race).

Impeach The Imbecilic Imbicile

I am encouraged by the depth and breadth of awareness of what this guy is up to.

Momma had an insight today that I think is brilliant and right on. She says he is mentally incompetent, meaning technically unable to discharge the Office he occupies, and more specifically feeble-minded to the point of clinically insane. One might say "idiot savant," who can handle whatever it is they can handle brilliantly but nothing else. This doubling-down they are doing in the face of broad opposition and flatulence sounds is a sign of mental instability, clinical abnormality producing mental incompetence to handle the job. One could say a regression into child-like petulance/thinking except that in this case that childishness was never risen above.

Children are supposed to think like children and gradually become adults. Some persist in the childish condition. Some revert to it. This one appears to be a persister.

And $1 will get you $1000 that a lot practically every known illegal drug is going down the digestive streams of lots of White House residents and appointees, especially now.

Overall, I am encouraged by the breadth and depth of awareness. I think Momma's insight re actual insanity needs to be pushed. I just did it to Reynolds and will start using it on Riehl and McCain.

Impeach The Imbecilic Imbicile

Impeach him/spouse on the basis of mental incompetence to execute the duties of the Office because of simply-mindedness, mental instability, feeble-mindedness, idiot savantism. The observation that they are insane should not be an epithet, it should be a clinical finding because it is clinically verifiable. That is a Constitutional basis for impeachment. It should be used. It is demonstrable.
