

And, Mothers ...

The Rev. David R. Graham
19DEC12

And, mothers, love your husbands and children - or else! You ain't nothin' special, dearie. You're going to die some day, you, yourself, dearie, so make of your life something you and posterity - and not your queer hair dresser and sycophantic/waspish "friends" - will admire rather than reprobate: a happy husband and hard-working, parent-honoring offspring. The mother who jilts her husband and gets gunned down by her offspring is an evil person. Dearie, don't do that if you want to live.

Dharma protects those who protect Dharma and doubt destroys those who do not.
