

Theological Geography

Newark Castle on the River Clyde

The Rev. David R. Graham
October 13, 2009

Historically, the Democratic Party in the United States of America is the party of slavery, segregation, racism, elitism and social stratification.

The situation has not changed. The Democratic Party continues as the party of slavery, segregation, racism, elitism and social stratification. Its present-day activities concretize those ancient intentions using other names.

The party's first break-free to run these intentions to victory produced its "Great Society" programs, recalling even in their designation the immediately preceding and politically identical efforts by Mao deemed the "Great Leap Forward."

(That break-free was accomplished by the Party's removal of John F. Kennedy from the White House.)

Now, however, The Democratic Party is in a position, finally (or so it calculates, and perhaps correctly), to "cross the goal line" and establish through national, state and local policies, regulations and institutions its traditional values or Holy Grail of slavery, segregation, racism, elitism and social stratification as the fundamental definition -- the "true definition," they would say -- of America, the law of the land.

And they intend to enforce it with absolute intensity and dedication. As slave owners run down obstreperous properties, Democrats run down critics and opponents.

Indeed, members of the Democratic Party are not interested in either state or local entities except as those operate as tributaries and executives of the national government, which they intend to become one branch, the Executive, with Leaders for Life.

Critics say the Democratic Party seeks to transform the United States of America into a “nanny state.” This criticism is impotent because it misreads the party’s values, history and intention. The Democratic Party seeks to transform the United States of America into a slave state. A slave state run by its functionaries is the historic and true aim of the Democratic Party and its handful of decisive actors.

With rare interludes (e.g., Andrew Jackson), the Democratic Party has always represented the left wing of the American Revolution, which is to say the tyrannical wing, and the core sentiment motivating Rousseau’s French Revolution/Terror, which is the origin of Communism.

The traditional values of the Democratic Party are Communistic. Communism is heretical Christianity.

James Lileks got it right describing the values of the rampant political party as “aggressive messianic collectivism.” Collectivists are Communists and Communism is slavery. The Democratic Party are not nannies, they are slavers.

Comments

Diana Rigg, First Lady of the British Proscenium

CLICK HERE

CLICK HERE

Newark Castle on the River Clyde

Newark Castle is a well-preserved castle sited on the south shore of the estuary of the River Clyde in Port Glasgow, Inverclyde, Scotland, where the firth gradually narrows from the Firth of Clyde and navigation upriver is made difficult by shifting sandbanks.