

Theological Geography January 4, 2010

Three Term End Examinations For The Degree Of Doctor Of Theology

There are three term-end examinations leading to the Degree of Doctor of Theology. For each of these, engage one of the following weblogs in order to illuminate to them the insufficiencies of their ways.

Failure dialectically to engage the outlook expressed on those weblogs will cause failure of the examination, as will the use of irony, sarcasm, cynicism, obsequiousness or mockery.

The examinations are reports in PDF format of your engagements. A report comprises series of snippets from the weblog followed by record of your engagements there regarding them. A report will run in 1.2 space Helvetica at 14pts. to not less than 300 pages. Graphics may be included if they were referenced during your engagement on the weblog. Return examinations here.

Daily Kos

Little Green Footballs

Instapundit